

RECENT OPERATIONS

By Paul Rardin

"Gotta sack of charcoal?" "Where can I borrow an armful of light wood?" "White gas is sure scarce." "Got an oil heater you're not using?" These and many other questions were heard on the shores of Lake Okechobee during the past week. Not since the fall of 1933 have it been so cold. For while it looked like the weather was never going to break. But it did! And are the folks thoroughly enjoying this warm sunshine? They are! It was a bitter pill to swallow. I'd go out one day and see a beautiful field of beans—almost ready to harvest. No! No! I'd go out and there they were as black as your hat. Froze stiff!

This week through another official announcement from another candidate who desires to wear the coat of Senator Charles O. Andrews. Dr. Olen B. Hazen, West Palm Beach physician and former resident of Pahokee, issued a formal announcement and said therein that his platform would be announced later. That makes two candidates from West Palm Beach and Palm Beach—Dr. Hazen and Charles Francis Coe. Then, there is the incumbent, Senator Andrews, and the governor, Fred P. Cone, avowed candidates. I almost forgot to name Mrs. Hortense Wells of Tampa, who is also a candidate. From that group I think the voters of Florida should be able to pick a good man or woman to represent them in the upper house of Congress.

I received another formal announcement in the mail this morning. Mizell Platt of West Palm Beach is announcing today as a candidate for the office of supervisor of registration.

We've heard a lot of wise cracks about the recent cold spell. But I'm willing to forget it—if that's possible. The farmers have taken it on the chin again but they're right back in there planting again. I've never in all my life seen such a determined bunch of men. You see 'em picking beans in a field one day and the very next day they're preparing the field for another planting. You can't keep a bunch like that down.

The Farm Security administration is planning to relieve the needs of many of the unemployed bean pickers and farmers. Officers have been set up in Belle Glade and Pahokee. As I understand the deal the federal government is going to issue straight grants of $15 monthly to the unemployed. All day yesterday there were long lines of waiting workers at the city hall in Belle Glade and the Region Hall in Pahokee. Applications were being filled out as rapidly as possible. Just as soon as a local committee can check on the lists they will be forwarded to Montgomery, Ala., where the checks will be issued and mailed back to the Glades. I understand that government officials are going to cut a lot of the red tape and get the checks right back. However, we'll wait and see how fast the FSA can work.

Secretary Ickes Refuses Permission To Slaughter Deer On Seminole Indian Reservation; Would Break Indian Act

Washington, Jan. 31.—Secretary Ickes refused permission today for the slaughter of deer on the Seminole Indian Reservation in the Florida Everglades as a method of eliminating tick-fever in cattle.

Officials said proposals for the slaughter of tick-infested deer had resulted from a series of conferences between Florida state officials, the Federal Bureau of Animal Husbandry and Florida cattlemen.

Ickes said the slaughter would be an unwarranted invasion of rights granted to the Seminoles under the

Taxidermist Minus Subjects When The Heat Thaws 'em Out

Mike Hoperich, Pahokee hardware store employee, is an amateur taxidermist and is interested in wildlife. The other day when he approached the shore, he noticed two mallards on the ground apparently killed by the previous night's cold. He picked up the birds and took them in the store with the idea they would be good subjects on which to experiment.

After a short time later when he was busy with his morning tasks, he heard a flutter near where he had placed the birds. Upon investigating, Hoperich found they had "thawed out" and flown off the counter.

According to his story, when he opened the door, they were sufficiently alive to fly about their business.

They tell us that silk stockings were discovered in the early fifteenth century, not as much of them as we see today.

Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth Is Candidate For Re-election On May 7

Eminent Jurist Has Served
Palm Beach County
For 16 Years

Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth, who has served Palm Beach county for 16 years, this week announced his candidacy for re-election. Judge Chillingworth's sole platform will be based on a continuance of the fair and impartial practices of the past. To date there is no announced opposition to Judge Chillingworth and little likelihood that there will be any. His announcement as carried in the Palm Beach Post is as follows:

Judge C. E. Chillingworth, present circuit judge presiding in Palm Beach county, who has held the office for 16 years, announced his candidacy for re-nomination, subject to the Democratic primary of May 7, last night.

In 1920 Judge Chillingworth was elected to the county bench, serving until June, 1923, when he was elevated to the circuit court, having been nominated in the Democratic primary of 1922. In 1928 and in 1934 he was again re-nominated.

Judge Chillingworth's sole platform will be a continuance of his policy of endeavoring to serve the citizens of the circuit conscientiously, fairly, and to the best of his ability. His campaign, Judge Chillingworth said, will be in keeping with the standards of one who should aspire to serve as a fair-minded and qualified judge.

Judge Chillingworth was

Dr. Olen B. Hazen Is Senate Candidate

Dr. Olen B. Hazen, West Palm Beach physician, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator. He said his platform will be made public later.

Dr. Hazen represented Palm Beach county in the 1935 Legislature and served on the Pahokee town council in 1932-33. There are the only political offices he ever held.

Born on a farm in Bradford county, Florida, he later worked as a cowboy in Louisiana and taught in the schools of Florida, North Carolina and Georgia for five years. Since his graduation from medical school he has engaged in a general practice of medicine in this state.

Jerry Carter Wants Sen. Andrews' Toga

Vero Beach, Jan. 31.—Jerry V. Carter, Railroad Commissioner, announced last night at a barbecue given by his friends at his mother's old homestead that he would seek the office of United States Senator in 1940.

Democratic primaries to be held in May and June. Mr. Carter is now serving his second term as Railroad Commissioner. Having been nominated two years ago at the first primary.

Library Is Open After Cold Spell

The Pahokee Public Library, which has been closed during the past week because of cold weather, now is open at the regular hours. Miss Juanita Eiler, librarian, announces all books, which became overdue while the library was closed, will not be subject to fine if returned before the closing hour Saturday night.

Mayor La Byr of New York should send word to the Yokum family that if they don't find any oranges to pick in Many-A-Chews, they can come on to New York and help him pick oranges from the tree growing in his office. This tree is a gift from Senator Earl Brown of the Florida Exhibit at the New York World's Fair.

Belle Glade Plans For Its Unemployed

Plans for relief to the unemployed who have been thrown out of employment because of the freeze through the Farm Security Administration, were made at a special meeting Tuesday night at the Town Hall. John R. Beecher, who is connected with the FSA projects here, Mayor Arnold E. Kirchner, local business men and farmers were present. Mayor Kirchner presided. It was announced that an office would be opened in Belle Glade Thursday morning to handle applications for the migrant workers who will receive an average of $15.00 per month. Volunteer workers were solicited to assist with the clerical work. There will be employed by the town. Committees will be appointed to investigate each application it was announced.

It was announced during the meeting for people to stay in Belle Glade during this time of distress, as at this time of the year there is no where to go to find work and the only solution in sight at the present time is to provide them with sufficient means to live until new crops are ready to harvest. Other offices will be opened in Pahokee, Pompano and Homestead.

Governor Appoints Nine Glades Men To The Hospital Board

Announcement Made In
Tallahassee On Wednesday Of This Week

An election was held last fall in which the citizens of the western section of Palm Beach county ratified a bill creating a hospital district in this area. The bill called for appointment by the governor of a nine-man board to control the proposed hospital. On Wednesday of this week Governor Cone announced appointment of the board. It is as follows:

Named to the board are: Justus Delaney of Pahokee for three years; J. O. Darden, Belle Glade, three years; Mrs. H. H. Wedgworth, Chosen, three years; J. C. Venable of Pahokee for two years; Roy Green Belle Glade, two years; Joe Wood, Lake Harbor, two years; George Mead, Pahokee, one year; C. G. Townsend, Belle Glade, one year; Sam Chastain, Canal Point, one year.

Revival Planned By Father A and Son

Plans are under way for a revival meeting to begin at the Baptist Church, Sunday, Feb. 11, according to the announcement of the Pastor, Dr. W. Marlow Sentele. The Pastor is to be assisted by his son, the Rev. W. Howard Sentele, Atlanta, Ga. This father and son have been associated in a number of revival meetings in other cities. It was in such a meeting, conducted in Knoxville, Tenn., when the son was directing the music, that the young son surrendered himself to a call to the ministry. He is a graduate of Howard College in New York City. The younger man to Belle Glade for a series of services will be anticipated with much interest.

The pastor is to preach Sunday at 11 a. m. on "O Lord Save Thy People" and at 7:30 on "A Father's Prayer for His Son." The people is cordially invited.

State Press Head Gives Hale A Chance

Chairman Arthur Hale of the State Road Department is being importuned to announce his candidacy for governor forthwith. The enthusiasm for Hale, which burst into flames several weeks ago has been built up to bonfire proportions again. He is looked upon with as much or more favor throughout the state as any man who has the advantage of having announced formally. Tate Forell in Baker County Press.

Leonard Is Named To Represent State On Democracy Day

County School Head To Represent State Congress
On Special Programs

Tallahassee, Feb. 1.—State Superintendent Colin English announced today the appointment of John Leonard, head of the county school system, to represent the Florida Congress on Democracy in the organization of the State Congress of American Democracy Day on Washington's birthday, February 22.

Superintendent Leonard has been asked by the Florida Congress on Democracy to call to the attention of the state representatives from all civic groups in the county.

The statewide program includes a public mass meeting at night in which young voters who cast their first ballot this year will be urged to take an active part in the obligations of citizenship in a democracy. This program will be coordinated with radio broadcasts from Florida stations.

Other suggested activities for the day include programs at schools in the morning and joint meetings of civic groups, clubs and women's organizations. All organizations of business, labor, veterans and professional groups are urged by the Florida Congress on Democracy to participate. The Congress is composed of state leaders of most of these groups.

Census Supervisor Appreciates Help

High praises for the cooperation of business men in the progress being made by enumerators in taking the present Business Census was expressed by John W. O'Bannon, District Supervisor for the Fourth Congressional District. Census takers in the vicinity of business concerns listed by the 1935 State Census in the District, outside of Dade County, have been enumerated.

"Statistics being collected in the business census are really more important than the population figures, which will be taken after April 1st," Mr. O'Bannon added. "They will have an important bearing on future allotment of funds from Federal agencies. Consequently it can readily be seen that business men of this area are furthering the state's progress by furnishing complete and correct data. Furthermore, a favorable showing in relation to the volume of business carried on will have the effect of attracting new business and new residents."

It was pointed out by the district supervisor that failure to make a report is punishable by a fine of $100. "When the census enumerators call at a man's place of business, it will be well for him to remember that the census taker is not there to pry into private affairs, but to obtain the proper amount of information for the purpose of obtaining evidence of national trends of deep concern to every individual."

A new sport was added to the campus activities of the University of Florida last week when student engaged in a snowball battle. The snow came down from the skies, too—it was shipped in by airplane. The snowfall fight, however, provided the ammunition for the battle. The occasion went down in university history as the first snowfall fight ever held on the campus—and it may be the last one, too.

Cars of Peas Out Over
FEC Railway

Cabbage shipments picked up during the week and 108 cars were shipped out over the FEC railway to northern markets. There were 24 cars of peas and 18 cars of potatoes, 15 mixed cars, 18 cars of peas and 2 cars of lettuce. One car of radishes also went north. It is impossible to give an estimate of prices on vegetables this week.

Council Attends Routine Matters

The Farm Security Administration was granted permission to use the town hall auditorium to receive the applications for the unemployed workers in this area, at the regular meeting of the town council, Wednesday night at the town hall.

Mayor Arnold E. Kirchner received the following telegram from Congressman A. Pat Cannon Wednesday night in connection with the FSA relief: "The President in connection today announced regarding crop loans."

County Agent or Frank W. Williamson, Director of Farm Security Administration, Bradenton, has asked President to have Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, check reclamation work reported the pump at the water works, and that the town fire truck has been pumping water for several days. City Attorney Herbert check with the town engineer for ordinance for the purchasing of a new pump at a cost of $100.

William Pierce, local property owner and business man, offered to install a portable information booth for tourists benefit on Main street near the place where Mr. Pierce said he would furnish the booth and all expense attached including electrical expenses. He also offered to have a truck to place his place Monday to inspect the set up.

Deeds were received from the Glades Chevrolet company and the Everglades Garage for a new 1940 long wheel-base garbage truck, owned on first and final reading of the long wheel base being inconvenient to handle on short curves, it was voted to ask for bids on cab over engine job.

A resolution was adopted, requesting all purchases made by town officials be made on the cash basis and issued by the town clerk. Such resolution will state that any purchase, department, or other purchase of articles over $100.00. This resolution will be in effect Feb. 15, it was announced. An emergency ordinance was passed on first and final reading for the purchasing of a new Ford police car, with a 50-horsepower Mercury motor, to be used by the town on old car, leaving with carrying charges a balance of $811.75 to be paid in 18-monthly payments by hire to fight fire, providing he got pay for his extra work. The commissioners voted to pay Mr. La Byr one dollar as a prize for work during fire here, retroactive to December 1.

Plans Made To Put Teacher Pension Act In Force Feb. 1

Budget Board Sets Up $2,000 Per Month To Cover
Operation Of Plan

Tallahassee, Jan. 31.—Arrangements were completed today for making the first payments under the Florida teachers' retirement law passed by the 1939 Legislature. The State Budget Commission approved expenditure of $2,000 a month for the purpose.

Colin English, State superintendent of education, said the funds will allow payment an average of $100 a month to about 50 teachers who are over 70 years of age and are not now employed.

Monthly checks will be distributed, he said, as soon as records of those eligible have been checked. Teachers start paying part of their salaries into the retirement fund this month.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Crocker

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Crocker were held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock in the Pahokee Baptist church with Rev. S. P. Board officiating. Mrs. Crocker died in Pahokee hospital Tuesday afternoon after suffering a heart attack. She was 70 years of age. Mrs. Crocker was born in Port Mayaca cemetery. She had made her home with Commissioner Crocker since 1928.

Other survivors include two sons, W. E. Crocker, Lake Worth and Walter Crocker of Dallas, Texas; four daughters, Mrs. John Price of Alto, Texas, Mrs. Wyatt Crocker of Bishaw, Ga., Mrs. Minnie Anderson of Pahokee, Mrs. Rosetta Ecker of Miami; one daughter, F. R. Scott of Okeechobee; one son, Mrs. Virginia Crocker and Mrs. J. J. Cannon of Belle Glade and Mrs. P. A. Forrester of Montgomery, Ala., and 21 grandchildren.

Homer Mott Dies In Tampa Hospital

Homer Mott, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mott, died in a Tampa hospital Friday afternoon after a long illness. He was born in Culligan, Ga., and had lived in Belle Glade for three years, attending school here. He was buried in Ft. Myers Sunday.

Those from here who attended the funeral services were Mrs. Curtis Cherry, Mr. and Mrs. M. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Luther, Mrs. A. A. Cruise, Mrs. H. B. Bore, Mrs. Cherry, Earl Cooper, Dandy Morris, Jr., and J. P. Hodges, Jr.

Planters Humming Today As Growers Make Effort To Get Seed Into Ground For Spring Crop; Prices Mount On What Few Offerings Remain; Cabbage and Celery Suffered Least From Freeze; Beans, Peas and Peppers Wiped Out During Past Week End.

Starting from scratch! That's what most of the green vegetable growers are doing this week. They've thawed out and so has the muck. And seed planters are humming in every direction as the growers make a frantic effort to get their seed into the ground—so they will have the first vegetables on what they hope will be a bumper crop.

It wasn't that we want to record this past week's freeze for posterity we would be tempted to forget it right now—if that were possible. Not since December 1934 has this area been subjected to such a terrific cold spell. Not for five years has the countryside been so completely clean of its tender vegetables. Celery and cabbage plots in places came through the cold with little damage.

It is impossible to estimate the loss sustained by growers in this section. It would run into hundreds of thousands of dollars. We do know, however, that all the beans, peas, limas, peppers and eggplant were ruined. There may be a small plot of beans here or there that came through without being frozen—but they, too, were severely damaged by the cold and wind. There are some patches of peas that will bring a handsome price when marketed within the next few days.

First reports were to the effect that all the cabbage was gone. But, upon investigation this week grow-

Cold Spell Brings Big Cabbage Prices Of 1935 To Mind

The recent cold spell has brought to mind the stories of the low prices received for cabbage following the freeze of December 12-15, 1934. Brooks Bladen, member of the state road department and one of the Glades' largest cabbage growers, told of selling five tons of cabbage to a truckload in March, 1935, for $100 per ton. The price on cabbage during March, 1935, ran well over $1,000 for a carload and Bladen remembered that one year later, when there had been no freeze, he sold five tons of cabbage to the same truck operator for $20.

Dance Scheduled Friday Nite, Feb.

Officials of the Pahokee American Legion announced this week that a Finnish ball dance will be held in the Legion pavilion on next Friday night, Feb. 9. It had been planned for Feb. 1, but on account of the fact that the outstanding orchestra was not available for that night the date was changed. Legion officials also announced indefinite postponement of the stag smoker scheduled for Monday night of this week.

THE SOCIALIZED CENSUS

The census man has been regarded in other years chiefly as an anonymous individual seeking to ascertain the number of individuals in the family, the vocations represented, the number of pigs owned and a few other statistical items.

But the census of 1940 emphatically reflects the socialized tendencies of the New Deal. Census officials will seek to shed light on social and economical problems. They will ask each individual how much he has earned in wages or salary during the preceding 12 months, where the individual lived five years ago, how much education he has, what kind of house he lives in, what conveniences it has, how many rooms it has and numerous other questions designed to shed light on the present status of the individual American.

A special effort will be made to gain

new insight into the status of agriculture and the industrial enterprises.

The census is not a governmental effort to pry into private affairs, but an intelligently planned, non-partisan effort to gather essential facts in a scientific manner. The 1930 census required the purchasing of 325,635,219 cards which required additional handling for verification. The census bureau, with the best tabulating equipment in the world, has machines that can digest 400 cards a minute—Lakeland Ledger.

IT WAS THE FREEZE

Amusingly, Governor Cone gives the Florida freeze as the reason for his 15-day extension of the automobile license deadline. Of course, this frost, not foreseen, was why thousands of motorists delayed purchasing the tags, the sale of which has lagged behind last year.

If Florida motorists had not expected this Tallahassee leniency, they would have their licenses now, and before the cold weather had stricken down the crops.

Certainly, now that the vegetables have withered, the unfortunate losers will be in no better position to purchase the tags during the next two weeks than they were during the past month.

In fact, they will be less able. The frost performed some strange tricks, indeed, when it froze the motor licenses—Miami Herald.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay

Several gubernatorial candidates advocate a constructive intelligent advertising program for Florida. They contend that we should make a greater effort to tell folks in other sections of the state the charms and advantages of our state.

That's fine, but just what are they going to advertise? Sunshine, bathing beaches, mocking birds, and all the other famed attractions? Well, I'm for that. But I would go further than that—I would contend myself with telling just ONE SIDE of the story.

Every now and then I inject an advertisement for all the world to read that would do more for Florida than all the other ads combined. I'd take liberal space in northern papers and magazines to point out a few things about this state that we now leave unsaid, but which would be better told.

I'd point out to prospective tourists that along with the pleasures this state had to offer, their journey over its highways would be dangerous because we hold the weeds cow sacred and that while enjoying our seashores they must likewise dodge our heifers.

A few ads like that would go a long way toward bringing our home folks to realize how backward we are in this respect. At the same time it would be no contrary to the usual appeal found in advertisements that I'm inclined to believe it would leave a favorable impression on the reader and react to Florida's good.

While I told them of the many interesting and delightful attractions of Miami, Jacksonville, Tampa, Pensacola, Orlando, St. Petersburg and other points, I'd point out that all of these charming cities were infested with loan sharks and salary buyers whom the good people of Florida permitted to prey on the helpless, the weak and the ignorant, making small loans and charging as high as 300 percent interest. Of course I'd explain that the racketeers operating such institutions maintained a powerful lobby in Tallahassee and so far as Florida legislature had ever been strong enough to oppose it.

I am inclined to believe that a single page advertisement in the Saturday Evening Post along that line would cause an uproar within our state that the new legislature would not stop to the evil if it didn't do anything else the entire session. And when they did, I'd publicize that fact with even greater vigor.

While I told the outsider of our marvelous citrus groves and urged them to eat more Florida fruit, I think I'd manage to sandwich in an ad or two explaining to the housewife that not all Florida fruit was fit to eat. I'd urge her to be mighty cautious about buying oranges and grapefruit, especially Florida's early in the season, for chances are she would find it useless and half ripe. I'd explain that it might be beautiful, brightly colored, but still worthless as far as eating quality was concerned, and I would urge her to be good enough to return it to me with the wrapper in which it came so that I could publicize the shippers through the press of the state so that the people of Florida would know just who was to blame.

When it came to my attention that any Florida community was so short sighted that during the tourist season it made a practice of gouging the tourists and winter visitors by advancing rents and hotel rates beyond all reason, I think I'd advise the public of the fact and call to their attention other Florida communities, where they could find a welcome and not be mistreated.

I realize that in so doing I probably would be the most thoroughly disliked person in the entire state. Before I got well started on this screw campaign I would probably be boiled in oil, tarred and feathered, and run out of the state on a rail. But nevertheless such a state advertising program based on honesty, sincerity and fair play would live in history to the very lasting credit and glory of Florida.

It would keep no one away but on the contrary would so startle and impress the reader that folks would flock here in greater numbers, for the world likes a guy who puts his cards on the table, who shows square and plays the game.

Florida is a great state. Her people are hospitable and kind. She is fundamentally square and honest; all the bad that might be said about her could never offset that which is good. But still she has a few skeletons in her closet and they will probably remain there for our guests to stumble on until we ourselves find courage to drag them out and destroy them.

Senator Andrews Sees Democratic Victory This Fall

Solon Speaks At Convention Held In Polk County Last Week

Lakeland, Feb. 1. (FNS) — A prediction that the Democratic party will again emerge the victor in the 1940 war of ballots, was voiced by U. S. Senator C. O. Andrews at the Polk County Democratic Convention held here last Friday.

"The Democrats have made good," Senator Andrews said. "Of course there have been mistakes, but the party has been doing things. The new deal means a square deal for the ordinary people who make up this country."

The establishment of a Chair of Democracy at Southern College College was hailed by Senator Andrews as a real event in the history of Florida and the nation.

Following the Lakeland meeting, a large group of professional and business men in Orange County met in Orlando and organized a militant campaign for the reelection of Senator Andrews. Leaders predicted that the senator's home county would give him 100 percent support with at least 30,000 votes.

Among other candidates attending the Polk County convention at Lakeland were Mrs. Hortense Wells, Tampa, also a senate candidate; Spessard Holland, Bartow, candidate for governor; Ed. R. Bentley, Lakeland, and J. Tom Watson, Tampa, candidates for attorney general; J. Ed. Larson, Jacksonville, candidate for state comptroller; and R. A. Gray, Tallahassee, unopposed candidate for reelection as Secretary of State.

Not Many Have Made The Grade

Governor Fred Cone has announced that he will be a candidate for the U. S. senate. He doesn't seem to realize that there is some sort of precedent that will not allow a man to step from the governor's chair to the senate. A lot of governors in the past have tried it, but only one made the grade—Port St. Joe Star.

Huge Mill Halted By Little Fishes

Port St. Joe, Feb. 1 (FNS) — Fish in the bay; fish in the pipe; in fact, too many fish! One of nature's strangest phenomena occurred recently at the Port St. Joe Paper mill when the whole output of the seven and one half million dollar plant was brought to a complete standstill by the interference of salt water minnows.

It all came about in this manner: The huge mill began to slow up for no apparent reason—engineers and operators were called in attendance. Nothing could be found wrong with equipment anywhere. The check was made again and the equipment still slowed up. And then it stopped completely. It took thirty minutes for searchers to find that the salt water tunnel was stopped by myriads of salt water minnows, those little fellows that dance and swim so gaily in the surf and who, swimming in schools, like sheep, follow a leader to be led into the intake salt water pipe, gumming up the works and even getting in to the pipes feeding the huge pieces of machinery.

The engineers were more surprised than the fish. After thirty minutes of cleaning work the mill started again without the fish mixture in the finished product.

ers say that more than half of this particular crop will be marketable. The celery crop of about 1,000 acres, was damaged in some areas and unhurt in other sections. Farmers are receiving profitable prices for this vegetable at present. Some potatoes, already matured, will be harvested within the next few days. Immediate harvest is necessary, it was pointed out, before the dead vines contaminate the tubers.

Since the freeze damage has jumped up to $100 a ton, the freeze hit hard, but the farmer said this damage could get his hands on the $35 per ton. In March 1935 earnings went as high as $100 per ton but such prices are not expected on the present crop. The Texas cabbage raising section was not so hard hit by the freeze as was first reported. It is estimated that there is a crop of between 1,000 and 2,000 acres in the Glades.

Most any variety of beans was bringing handsome prices yesterday. Sales came within a few cents of the $5.00 per bushel mark. One lot remained unsold when the owner was offered only $4.25.

If this writer wasn't afraid of being called completely goofy he would repeat a story told him this week by a long-time resident of the Glades who said the present season would go down in history as one of the most prosperous we've ever seen. It sounds a little foolish in print but the way this fellow explained it—it didn't sound at all goofy.

dent in West Palm Beach, attended the public schools here, graduating from Palm Beach High School in 1913, and from the College of Law of the University of Florida in 1917. Owing to the fact that he was not at present a graduate, it was necessary for him to obtain admission to the practice of law in the State of Florida.

Since the time he has been on the bench, approximately 25-30 cases have been handled by him, including 700 criminal cases, of which more than 150 were for murder. From this mass of litigation, while comparatively few were appealed to the Supreme Court, in less than 100 instances have any judgments entered by Judge Chillingworth ever been reversed by the Supreme Court.

Records show that the State Supreme Court has recognized Judge Chillingworth's services in numerous cases from other parts of the state in requesting his aid in preparing opinions for the consideration of the court. Judge Chillingworth is a member of the Bar Association as well as a number of patriotic, fraternal, social and civic bodies. He is married and has three daughters, Neva, Ann and Marie.

Many Prominent Visitors Take Part In A District Gathering

The Everglades Business and Professional Women's Club was invited to District 7, of the State Federation, at a business meeting at the Clewiston Inn Sunday, following a tour of the sugar mill.

Robert Sikes Asks To Be Congressman

Crestview, Feb. 1. (FNS)—Robert (Bob) Sikes, editor of the Oklawaha News Journal, former president of the Florida State Press Association, and member of the legislature from Oklawaha county, announced last week that he would ask the voters of the third congressional district for the office of Congressman from that district. Sikes' announcement makes at least a three-cornered race for the office. Immediately following the statement made by Mildred Caldwell, present Congressman from this district, that he would not be a candidate for reelection, Parshall Mayo, Caldwell's opponent two years ago, announced that he would again be a candidate. G. Pierre Wood, speaker of the House in the 1937 Legislature, has also announced for this office, making three strong candidates in an open field in the third district.

Recertification Of WPA Labor Starts In Palm Beach Co.

Pahokee Office To Be In The Annex To City Hall

Jacksonville, Feb. 1. (Special)—Resumption of certification for WPA work relief will begin in Palm Beach county, on February 1, according to announcement today of L. L. Bristol, director of State Welfare District No. 10, with headquarters at West Palm Beach.

Only persons who have not previously been certified for work relief will be certified at this time by the State Welfare Board, the WPA having arranged through its own social work staff to recertify those who have been dropped from the rolls.

WPA certification was discontinued by the State Welfare Board in June of last year as an economy measure, so that the funds now were available could be used in the payment of Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Blind and Aid to Dependent Children. At that time approximately 25,000 persons had been certified to the WPA for whom no jobs had been provided.

Resumption of certification was made possible, according to announcement of State Welfare Commissioner C. C. Coddington, by use of part of the funds previously paid as old age assistance to nearly 500 aliens who were removed from the rolls on January 1 by a legislative amendment to the state welfare act which prohibited the granting of such assistance except to citizens of the United States.

About 50 additional visitors have been employed over the state for WPA certification exclusively, the present welfare staff already reduced in numbers, having no time for the additional work. The intake office at Pahokee for WPA certification will be located at City Hall Annex.

A POLITICAL ADVERTISING POLICY

With the advent of the 1940 political campaign, The News takes this means of making public its advertising policies covering campaign publicity. This statement is made for the information and guidance of candidates, their friends, supporters and other representatives in their dealings with The News.

Campaign advertising will be charged at the regular rate of 50 cents per column inch and all such advertising will be marked "political advertising." No free publicity will be promised in connection with political advertising. Advertising published as reading matter will be charged for at the rate of 7 1/2 cents per line, light face, or 10 cents per line black face, and will be marked "advertisement" as required by the postal laws and regulations.

All political advertising or printing must be paid for in advance, as we are still holding the bag on two candidates during the last election. There will be no exceptions to this rule.

The News reserves the right to determine the activities of individual candidates which shall be regarded as news insofar as this paper is concerned, and to handle that news as the publisher so desires.

Political advertisements must meet the same requirements as other advertising, as to ethical standards and responsibility. Where subject matter is of a controversial nature, names of persons or organizations responsible is a part of the advertisement and must be published therein.

All candidates will be on exactly the same basis in carrying out these policies, which experience has proven are fair and equitable to all candidates and the newspaper.
